

Chant des Âmes White

AOP Languedoc

Meaning “Song of Souls,” Chant des Âmes is the ultimate expression of the best grapes from the finest vineyards at Domaine Belles Pierres.

Grapes: 60% Roussanne, 40% Viognier

Alcohol: 14.5% by volume

Production: 2500 bottles

Winemaking:

The grapes are handpicked at full maturity early in the morning and transported quickly to the cellar in order to preserve freshness. After pressing the must is cold settled for 24 hours, then put into barrels for fermentation. The wine is aged in used French oak barrels for 18 months and the lees are stirred regularly.

Tasting Notes:

Yellow in color with gold reflections. An elegant wine with intense floral and citrus aromas that develop further on the palate. Flavors of ripe pear, white peach and white flowers are layered with vanilla, wildflower honey and baking spice. The wine is rounded and rich in the mouth, with well balanced acidity and an extremely long finish.

About Domaine Belles Pierres:

Domaine Belles Pierres is located in the village of Murviel les Montpellier, in the terroir of Saint Georges d’Orques in the Languedoc. Owner and winemaker Damien Coste continues the tradition of his father Joseph (“Jo”), with high quality, small production Rhône-style wines made entirely from handpicked grapes. The 20 hectares of vineyards are set on rolling hills with silica-rich limestone and marl soils, and are influenced by the nearby Mediterranean. It is said the wines of Saint Georges d’Orques were the favorite of Thomas Jefferson; more recently the wines of Domaine Belles Pierres have been enjoyed by French presidents and visiting dignitaries, and are stocked in the cellar of the Élysée Palace.
